DETAILED ACTION

This is the first Office Action in response to the above identified patent application filed on September 4, 2001.

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. Figure 9 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 1-6 are objected to because of the following informalities: "encoder: ." must be changed to --encoder:--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is understood that the single pitch deviation and the magnetic flux density is obtained by properly selecting a material for the base rubber material for the elastic member, a material for the powder of the magnetic material, and the mixing ratio thereof (page 12, first full paragraph). However, applicant has not provided a specific example of materials and mixing ratios to obtain an encoder having the claimed properties when subjected to the claimed endurance test. Accordingly, it is not entirely clear that applicant had possession of the claimed device and one in the art could not make/use the invention.

6. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 5, the limitations "second sealing plate" on lines 14 and 15 (two occurrences) must be changed to --first sealing plate--.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3682

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Alff (US Patent 5,622,437) in view of Hajzler (US Patent 5,431,413).

Alff discloses a wheel bearing assembly comprising: a sealing member for sealing an annular space between inner and outer race members and a magnetized encoder (7) mounted to the inner member. Referring to column 2, lines 27-36, Alff discloses that the sealing device with an integrated encoding device is described in U.S. Patent 5,431,413. Accordingly, the magnetized encoder is formed of elastomer material loaded with magnetic particles. Alff does not disclose the encoder having the claimed properties when subjected to the claimed thermal endurance test. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to obtain the claimed properties by adjusting the mixing ratio of elastomer material and magnetic particles used in making the encoder of Alff, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

With respect to claim 6, Alff does not disclose the elastomer material as nitrile rubber. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the elastomer material of nitrile, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.
